Would you like for “Día de los Muertos” to be celebrated in the United States? Why or why not? What aspects of the holiday do you like? Which aspects do you not like? Do you have friends or relatives that have passed on that you would honor if we celebrated “Día de los Muertos”? Please be specific in your answers and opinions. I am going to count this as a quiz grade, which could help many of you. I am not setting a required number of sentences but be sure you have answered the questions completely.
